

Engineer receives Professional License

Martenson and Eisele, Inc., announces its employee, Jack J. Richeson, has become a licensed professional engineer for the state of Wisconsin. Richeson successfully passed the National Council of Examiners for Engineering & Surveying (NCEES) Principles and Practice of Engineering (PE) exam, acquired 4 years of post-graduate engineering work and received recommendations from 5 professional engineers. He has obtained a Bachelor's Degree in Environmental Engineering from the University of Wisconsin Madison and a Master's Degree in Environmental Engineering from Virginia Tech with an emphasis on storm water engineering. Richeson has been with Martenson and Eisele as an engineer-in-training since July of 2014.

